CONNECTING YPs TO FOSTER FOOD EQUITY

SO YOU THINK YOU CAN BE A CHANGE AGENT?

Have you noticed the key role that food plays at the intersection of health, the environment, the economy and society? Do you have innovative ideas to help combat global malnutrition? Do you want to learn about more sustainable, viable approaches to the food security dilemma?

At FOODTOPIA, Partners4Change and ICA, the largest young professional's business network in the Netherlands, join forces with multinational businesses, public organizations and NGO's to tackle issues related to global malnutrition and food security.

FOODTOPIA gives both global entities and local actors the opportunity to tap the collective brain trust of aspiring young professionals, visionary managers and social entrepreneurs to help solve the critical food and nutrition challenges they face. The core of the event will be the hands-on "DO-IT sessions," wherein you will problem-solve with other professionals to bring innovative solutions to global malnutrition and food security challenges. By convening professionals from various sectors, the DO-IT sessions provide you with the unique opportunity to share knowledge with diverse actors in a multi-stakeholder sustainability working group.

Obesity. Hunger. Starvation. Food waste. Food security. Sustainable agriculture. All of these topics intersect at FOODTOPIA, and they have never been more pressing. We need your passion. We need your solutions. We hope you'll join us.
